

A Collaboration in Online Rare Disease Education

Live and on-demand video education

Multiple perspectives on each panel – including affected families

Interactive features including polling, pre-live Qboard and live Q&A with panelists

Connect from any device

Downloadable slides and other resources

Integrated measurement tools track efficacy of education

Key	Response	Percent
A) Symptoms	3.4	3.39%
B) Diagnosis	10.2	10.17%
C) Treatment	22.0	22.03%
D) Quality of life	64.4	64.41%

The National Organization for Rare Disorders (NORD) has partnered with PlatformQ Health, a leading provider of digital education for clinicians and patients, to create accredited online education about rare diseases. Programs will feature top medical experts, foundations and patient organizations. Disease-specific education will be created, as will general rare disease education, for specialists and general practitioners alike.

Reaching the right clinician with the right education at the right time

Convenient

Clinicians and other learners can connect anywhere, on any device, for our live and on-demand programs.

Impactful

Programs are presented in partnership with leading advocacy groups and medical centers.

Interactive

Platform enables real-time engagement with medical experts and patient presenters.

To learn more about this collaboration, contact us!